

HPLC Columns

Thermo Fisher Scientific has announced that its Synchronis HPLC columns are now available with 3 μm particle size. The new particle size complements the existing 1.7 and 5 μm particle sizes.

The columns are engineered with pure, high surface area silica. Dense bonding and double endcapping minimize variation due to silanol activity. Enhanced automated column packing methods drive consistency further, and each column is individually tested.

Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc., www.thermofisher.com [1]

Source URL (retrieved on 02/01/2015 - 5:50pm):

<http://www.rdmag.com/product-releases/2013/01/hplc-columns>

Links:

[1] <http://www.thermofisher.com/>